

MODULE 3: LANGUAGE FOCUS PRIME LANGUAGE ACADEMY

Le Présent Perfect :

Un temps verbal qui nous permet de parler d'actions terminées dans le passé sans préciser le moment exact, et dont les conséquences ou l'expérience sont toujours présentes. Voyageons à travers ses trois formes principales : affirmative, négative et interrogative !

Partie 1 : - Le Présent Perfect Affirmatif

"have" (pour tous les sujets sauf la 3ème personne du singulier) le participe passé du verbe.

Sujet	Présent Perfect	Exemples
I	have + participe passé	I have eaten breakfast. (action terminée, conséquence présente : je n'ai plus faim)
You	have + participe passé	You have studied English for two years. (action terminée, conséquence présente : tu as des connaissances)
He/She/It	has + participe passé	He has lived in Paris since 2010. (action terminée, conséquence présente : il habite toujours à Paris)
We	have + participe passé	We have finished our homework. (action terminée, conséquence présente : on peut jouer)
You	have + participe passé	You have never been to Italy. (expérience passée, conséquence présente : tu ne connais pas l'Italie)
They	have + participe passé	They have already seen the movie. (action terminée, conséquence présente : ils connaissent l'histoire)

Quand l'utiliser ?

Utilisez le présent perfect affirmatif pour :

- Parler d'actions terminées dans le passé sans préciser le moment exact : "I have eaten lunch."
- Décrire des expériences vécues : "I have never been to Japan."
- Expliquer des situations actuelles qui résultent d'actions passées : "We have lived here for five years."
- Faire des comparaisons entre le passé et le présent : "He has studied more than me."

Exercices:

1. Cochez les phrases qui sont au présent perfect.

- Oui / Non - I eat breakfast every morning.
- Oui / Non - She has lived in London for 10 years.
- Oui / Non - The sun rises in the east.
- Oui / Non - They are watching a movie right now.
- Oui / Non - We have never been to Paris.

2. Complétez les phrases avec le présent perfect correct du verbe entre parenthèses.

- I (eat) breakfast this morning.
- He (live) in Paris since 2005.
- They (not see) the movie yet.
- We (visit) many countries.
- You (read) this book?

3. Écrivez cinq phrases sur vos expériences

Partie 2 : Le Présent Perfect Négatif

Le présent perfect négatif, On ajoute "not" après "have" ou "has" dans la construction affirmative.

Sujet	Présent Perfect	Exemples
I	have not (haven't) + participe passé	I haven't eaten breakfast yet. (action non terminée)
You	have not (haven't) + participe passé	You haven't studied enough for the exam. (action incomplète)
He/She/It	has not (hasn't) + participe passé	He hasn't finished his homework. (action en cours)
We	have not (haven't) + participe passé	We haven't been to the cinema for a long time. (absence d'expérience)
You	have not (haven't) + participe passé	You haven't seen that movie, have you? (question négative implicite)
They	have not (haven't) + participe passé	They haven't arrived yet. (action en attente)

Quand l'utiliser ?

Utilisez le présent perfect négatif pour :

- Dire que quelque chose n'est pas encore arrivé ou n'a pas été fait : "I haven't seen my friend today."
- Exprimer une expérience

Partie 3 : Le Présent Perfect Interrogatif

Le présent perfect interrogatif, On ajoute "have" ou "has" + sujet + participe passé.

Sujet	Présent Perfect	Exemples
I	Have I	Have I eaten breakfast yet? (question sur une action)
You	Have you	Have you studied English for long? (question sur une expérience)
He/She/It	Has he/she/it	Has it stopped raining? (question sur une situation)
We	Have we	Have we ever been to Paris? (question sur une expérience unique)
You	Have you	Have you seen my keys? (question sur une action récente)
They	Have they	Have they arrived yet? (question sur une action en attente)

Quand l'utiliser ?

Utilisez le présent perfect interrogatif pour :

- Poser des questions sur des actions terminées dans le passé sans préciser le moment exact.
- Demander des informations sur des expériences vécues.
- S'enquérir de situations actuelles résultant d'actions passées.

Exercices:

1. Transformez les phrases de la partie 1 à la forme interrogative.
2. Écrivez cinq questions sur vos expériences passées en utilisant le présent perfect interrogatif.

Worksheet

Instructions: Complete the following exercises to practice using the Present Perfect Tense.

I. Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the verb (present perfect).

1. I _____ (visit) my grandparents several times this year.
2. They _____ (not eat) breakfast yet.
3. She _____ (read) that book three times already.
4. We _____ (travel) to many different countries.
5. He _____ (not see) his friends in a while.
6. Have you ever _____ (be) to Paris?
7. It _____ (rain) all day.
8. They _____ (always help) each other out.
9. She _____ (not finish) her homework yet.
10. We _____ (already eat) dinner.

II. Put the verb in the correct order (present perfect) to make sentences.

1. ever / been / you / to / Italy
2. they / not / finished / their / project / yet
3. she / already / made / breakfast
4. have / you / ever / seen / the northern lights
5. we / visited / the museum / last week

III. Write sentences about yourself using the present perfect tense. Use the following prompts as inspiration.

- Have you ever been to a foreign country?
- What have you eaten for breakfast today?
- Have you finished any books recently?
- Who have you seen today?
- What have you learned new lately?

Text

Sarah has lived in her current city for five years. She has traveled to many different countries in her lifetime, but her favorite place to visit so far is Italy. She has already visited Rome, Florence, and Venice, and she hopes to explore more of the country in the future. Sarah has also completed her college degree and is now working as a teacher. She has always loved working with children and feels fulfilled in her career.

Dialogue

A: Hi Emily, have you seen John anywhere?

B: No, I haven't. I haven't seen him all morning.

A: Maybe he's still in bed. He hasn't been sleeping well lately.

B: Have you talked to him about it?

A: Yes, I have. He says he's been feeling stressed about work.

B: Maybe you two can go out for coffee later and talk about it.

A: That's a good idea. Thanks, Emily.

Prime Language Academy

Scannez pour visiter le site officiel PLA.

primelanguageacademy.com

